

WASHINGTON CRIMINAL PROCEDURES SEATTLE CRIMINAL DEFENSE LAWYERS ON YOUR SIDE

Being arrested under any circumstances can be one of the most frightening experiences for anyone in Washington. The uncertainty of the future, the penalties possible and even the details of the charge are enough to overwhelm someone in a matter of moments. In those times, it is important for residents of Seattle to have dependable criminal defense to turn to for representation.

One of our priorities at Lewis & Laws, PLLC is to make sure that our clients facing criminal charges in Seattle are informed on the steps ahead of them as we venture to defend them in court. Unfortunately, criminal charges involve more than just a court trial. There are several steps that are taken depending on the type of crime and the age of the alleged client. We have found that educated clients are happier clients and we do our best to keep you informed through the process as to the progress and status of your case.

Posting bail: For the family and friends of a person who have been arrested, our firm offers legal support. We recognize that a criminal charge can affect more than just the defendant. If you need to know more about posting bail in the state of Washington, you can review the information on this page to find out what you need to know as you proceed with the process.

Pre-file investigations: When our attorneys defend a case we do more than just react to the allegations that are made against our clients and the evidence that is presented. We also take our own measures of proactive defense, including gathering information about the events involved in our client's arrest. Through this type of investigative process we can better prepare for the defense case ahead.

Jury trial: The jury trial for a criminal case can be both complex and extensive, especially if you are unfamiliar with the process. Therefore, we provide a full rundown on the steps involved at this stage of the process, allowing you the opportunity to better understand and prepare for what's to come. From the jury selection, to opening statements, to the presentation of evidence, to the closing arguments and verdict, we can be there for it all.
